++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Bright start, turning cloudier from the west. Breezy on hills.

Today:
A dry and bright start for most, but it will soon become rather cloudy with some patchy light rain and drizzle, especially across the Peak District. Some warm sunny spells developing in the east. Breezy, particularly over higher ground. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Tonight:
Rather cloudy and damp overnight, with patchy rain and drizzle at times, especially on the hills. Drier with occasional clear spells elsewhere. A very mild night, with lighter winds. Minimum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Saturday:
Cloudy with some light rain and drizzle on the hills at first. The cloud will tend to break up to give some warm sunny spells by the afternoon. Light winds. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Chance of heavy thundery showers on Sunday. Feeling warm. A band of rain, locally heavy, quickly clearing east Monday, with cooler, showery conditions following. Sunshine and heavy showers on Tuesday.
